Each heart is freedom's shield,
And Heaven's smile is o'er us." (Cheers.)
three other persons made short speeches, and antil the meeting adjourned at the main stand-ngs at the Western Stand in the The War Spirit developing itself-Speeches.

Several thousand persons congregated about the stagge eracted in the Park, near Broadway, it being undersood that some of the principal speakers would address the crowd hete. Several small rows occurred in this eighborhood, and we saw two men with bloody noses urised off the ground.

The meeting was called to order at half-past six, by M. Wetmore, Esq., and Alderman Wm. B. Cozzens apointed chairman.

Hon. Robert H. Mennis, who said :—Fellow-citizens—His good to be laye. Upon an orcasion of this kind the American pecific will never refrait from meeting and protecting the government in protecting the country. This is the first opportunity the mass of us have had to do so. There are few here who, in 1812, when the war regan between England and America, and helped to defend the rights of freedom. But we are ler'd to do as tipose glorious lew did before under the refresh of the street of the government by cettined and sold to once the thin the said of t

The resolutions were then adopted.

The resolutions were then adopted.

Mr. Lerinan now took the stand and said—It is no party call that has summoned this meeting. We come here at the call of the Chief Megistrate, to express to meeting and we adopt the maxim of the galfant Law-rence—"Our country always right—our country, Godnless her, right or wrong" (Cheering, and great sensebless her, right or wrong." (Cheering, and great sensition.) But it is a source of satisfaction to know that we are right in this war—that justice is fighting with us. I need not tell you that the annexation of Texas was in cvitable—no intrigues from shroad could stay that meastre. It is a vile calumny to say that it was a scheme for our aggrandizement—Texas obtained her position honorably, and her independence was scknowledged by several foreign powers; and she had a right to annex herself to this country if she wished. It has been said that this government was anxious to enter into a war with Mexico, because she was poor and defenceless. It is a vile calumny.

Voice in this Crewp.—It's a lie, and be d.——d to you.

Is a vile calumny.

Voice in the Crewd.—It's a lie, and be d.—d to you.

Mr. Lemman —Do you tell me that if England had been in the situation of Mexico—if she had abused our citizens—murdared our soldiers—crossed the Rio Grande and slaughtered peaceable men, that we would have stood by supinely and allowed it? No! It was because Mexice was weak that we forbore so long. We have now a work to do, to avenge our murdered soldiers, whose spirits are lingering in mid air, waiting for the secrifice. The indignity must be avenged, and purged away with the blood of the Mexicans.

George Wassingoro Dixon here mounted a window in the City Hall, and a crowd collected to hear him. He commenced by saying, Citizens of New York—Some of 76.

Voices in Crown—Hurtah General—give us a song. General Dixon—If you will be patient you shall have a song. I want to talk to you about liberty and victery. (Applanes) I went you to shoulder your muskets, and defend your country from the aggressions of Mexico.

"To arms, to arms, ye brave."

Voices—is there any booty?

General Dixon—Booty! there is plenty of it—if you have the courage to go after it—you don't think it will come to you? (Laughter and shouts) And now I'll give you a song prepared-for the occasion.

A Fat Man—What's the tune?

General Dixon—The tune is "Old Dan Tucker," and here it is—
Mr. Dixon now sung about a hundred verses, from which we extract the following:

The Mexicans are on our soil.

Mr. Dirow now sung about a hundred verses, fhich we extract the following:

The Mexicans are on our soil,
In war they wish us to embroil;
They've tried their best and worst to vex us
By murdering our brave men in Texas.
Chorus—We're on our way to Rio Grande,
On our way to Rio Grande,
On our way to Rio Grande,
And with arms they'll find us handy.
We are the boys who fear no noise,
We'll leave behind us all our joys,
To punish those half savage scamps.
Who've alain our brethren in their camps.
The God of War, the mighty Mars,
Has smiled upon our stripes and stars;
And spite of any ugly rumers
We'll vanquish all the Montezumas!
We're on our way to Matamoras,
On our way to Matamoras,
On our way to Matamoras,
And we'll conquer all before us!

Mr. Snarran said, the bolt has already burst in terrible grandeur. If I were not disabled in one arm and leg. I would march to the scene of action if I had nothing but a jackase to bear me. (Laughter)

Voicz—Suppose you were to bear the jackase ? (Shouts and appleuse.)

Jackass to bear me. (Laughter.)

Voice—Suppose you were to bear the jackass? (Shouts and applause.)

Mr. Sharren.—The people are learning that they are a great people. I trust we are all Americans here. We stand on freedom's soil, and will defend the rights of our country. Mexico is her own worst anemy. The war has allready commenced—hundreds of thousands will march from this State, and make Mexico bits the dust and her dry bones smell. I am willing for one to make Mexico and England smell burnt powder.

Mr. Vocanitra, of New York, then came forward and said—Is that the beamer of your country? [Fointing to the fing upon the City Hell.] Has that beamer protected you from wrong and injury? If so, i call upon you now, as you hold every thing mar and dear to you to rally around that glorious banner now in the hour of need and supposed general conflict. Are we at war with Mexico? Yes, indeed, we are. Rally, then, around the stimdard of your country, and in the language of the gallant Decatur speak out, "My country right or wrong, yet still my country." In the language, too, of the poet—

"God, my native land, our homes; Shall be our song."

This is the second war in which I have had some knowledge, and in conclusion of which, we must be ucknowledge, and in conclusion of which, we must be ucknowledged the mistrees of the world. I believe this to be as just a war as that made by Great Britain in our more defonceless state, and from which we shall retire with equal honor. In the hour of need and safeversity we are called upon only to set, and now that our Freedom has called upon only to set, and now that our Freedom has called upon cut little sister Maryland for 2000 active men, let us ha prepared with our 20,000, and that, too, within ten days. (Some one on the stand, whose hair was allvered over with years of age, said in "five days," which met with a very general and hearty response.) I do imple re and call upon you, fallow citizens, and that too upon this occasion to come forward, as did Wm. Tell, in the hour of his country's wrongs, and we will be size—to say that I am a sappling from the revolutionry tree, perhaps would be unnecessary. (A bad one, said a news-boy in the crowd.) My father distinguished himself in the service of his country, and my brother stood forward in more perilous times than these, and almost single-handed and opposed to a large force, captured a whole squadron. Right or wrong I go for my country, and although I have but one arm left, that shall be wielded in the support of my country. (Immense cheering.) If that I should be called upon, that only hand of mine will hold fast to the banner of my country, until its folds shall be crimsoned with the blood of my enemy. (Immense and tremendous cheering.)

Mr. William B. Cozigus then stepped forward, and said that a lettor which had been already read upon the principal stand, would be read by a gentleman connected with the public prus, and but recently received by an officer from Point lasbel. (The letter was then read, which was rapturoutsly welcomed and applauded.)

Mr. Holwas then came forward, who said—Aside from the views of the gentlemen who have preceded me, I hope I may be permitted to venture a few remarks, and in reference to the poor and benighted Mexicans, who geth shaw but a poor opinion of our valor and our stength, that they see in a degree excusable, for they have but imitated Great Britain in their precipitate steps I say, that a criss is at hand, which, in the history of this republic, may not have a parallel, yet will exert an important influence. To prevent the great loss of our solders and our sellow contracts a population of 7,000,00, is aided by the strength of a great nation, and which to subdue will require much, not only of sympathy but determined and. I will merely wind up by saying, that I hope you ar

Recting of the Shiffler Club.

At a special meeting of the New York Shiffler Club, held pursuant to a call of the President, Davis S. Hunt, Esq., at American Hall, on Wednesday evening, 20th its stant, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

Whereas, The members of this Club have learned that a state of war is now existing between our beloved country and the Government of Mexico; and whereas we have had still further jutelligence that our soil has been invisided by a large body of the Mexican army, the result of which has been the loss of several gallant American officers and soldlers, therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the members of the New York Shiffler Club, forgetting all other considerations, and waving all political feeling except "love of country," will rally around the present administration of our government, in their efforts to chastise the invaders of our blood-bought soil, as witnessed at Golind, the Alamo, and the battle field of San Jacinto, and that we will give to them all the aid and assistance in our power, in their exertions to protect our rights, and to inflict a summary punishment on the intruders whe have dared to pollute our beloved land.

Resolved, That we heartily approve of the position taken by the President of the United States, in his recent war message to Congress.

Resolved, That since the call of this meeting, we have heard, with unfeigned pleasure, of the recent successes of our army on the Rio Grande, and that we half battle as the dawning of a brighter day; giving, as it does, the promise of a recurrence of the glories of a Chippewa, a Niagara, a Lundy's Lane, and a New Orleans.

Resolved, That our sincers and hearty thanks are eminently due to Gensral Taylor and his small but noble band, that have so gallantly sustained the glory and reputation of the American arms; and that we halv to be dimensed the military tyrants who have of late years guided her destiny, has cease

the Army will be of the highest importance.—
From the cannonading that was heard on the morning of the 6th instant, we are led to believe that the Mexicans have made an attack on the intrenchments of the American camp. In that case a decisive action is inevitable. • Upon this action

In this view of affairs, the next news from the seat of way will be of the last importance. We have made full arrangements for the most rapid transmission of intelligence, by man, horse, steam and electricity, all combined. It may arrive at any hour, night or day. Look out, then, for the Extras. By the bye, we would impress upon the people again, that we never publish an Extra, unless we have important intelligence, worth the money it costs. If it arrives in time for our morning edition, we give it in that edition; and above all, we never issue an extra containing nothing more than was given in our morning edition. We issue extras not to gather in cents, but to give the people the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance and the latest news of importance at the earliest possities and the latest news of importance and the latest news of importance and the latest news of importance and the latest news of inter

On Monday and Tuesday of this week, there was quite a flare-up in this body. On a motion to approve of the Christian Advocate and Journal, as conducted by Dr. Bond, the editor, the Rev. Dr. Bangs took occasion to make objections, and assign his reasons. He denounced the church paper as a public nuisance, by reason of its vulgarity and obscenity of language, which he deelar, ed to be demoralizing and mischievous to the last degree. He said that it had been for the last two years filled with abuse of many of the best men in the church, and that Dr. Bond made use of its columns to assail the General Conference, declaring himself independent of that body, which, he said, was dead and buried; and denied that he was their officer, or responsible to them. He charged that the most pious members of the church were refusing to subscribe any longer, on the ground of was dead and buried; and denied that he was their officer, or responsible to them. He charged that the most pious members of the church were refusing to subscribe any longer, on the ground of the irreligious character of the paper, rendering it unfit to be read in their families; so that multitudes of subscribers were daily stopping the paper all over the country. He cited numerous instances of assaults made by Dr. Bond upon brethren in the ministry, who had provoked his displeasure by thinking for themselves, so that the paper was made the vehicle of gratifying the personal resembnents of the editor, against everybody in the church who differed from him, without respect to age, or standing, or usefulness, and alluded to various dirty nricles, containing personalities of the most low and offensive character.

The venerable Laban Clark declared that he would sooner put his haul to the Alcorat of Mahomet, than vote for a resolution approving of Dr. Bond's course in the Adocate.

During the debates the Rev. Dr. Clin, President of the Wesleyan University, assured Dr. Bangs that the articles assailing himself, by Dr. Bond, had done him no injury; to which Dr. Bangs replied, that the failure to inflict injury upon him, for lack of power to do so, did not excuse the heirousness of attempting it.

Dr. Bond made several attempts to defend himself and his paper—he denied being the aggressor, and imputed to Dr. Bangs the motive of pursonal hostility, alluding to certain historical matters, which the presiding Bishop Waugh decided to be out of order. The whole matter, after a stormy debate, was made the ogder of the day for this morning, (Thursday,) fit the Seventh Street Church, when the people will assemble to see and hour this controversy; unless the Bishop shall

The amount of discounts to 'orokers was, on the 1st instant, very small, compared 'with previous reports; but it will be ebserved that the as jount of cash items has increased about as much as the discounts to brokers have fallen off, according to the refurns. It is not generally known that the items returned as cash, are principally composed of stocks upon which I loans have been made, and which are called and counted as so much cash, froza day to day. In this way discounts to brokers are disg alsed, and returns are made she wing a more limited extent of loans to stock speculators than actually existed. So far as this goes, it serves to show that these quarterly returns are a perfect farce, at d are, in fact, attended with more harm than good.
